From Saturday September 17. to Tuesday September 20. 1737.

Petersbourg, September 3.

OUR Advices from Niemeroff are, that four Conferences had been held there without entring upon any very material Affair; but in those Conferences the Turks shewed such a Disposition to Peace, as gave Hopes a Treaty may be concluded before this Year expires.

Vienna, Sept. 11, N. S. An Express from Niemeroff has brought Letters with which this Court appears to be well pleased. They import, that in the first Conferences held there, the Turkish Plenipotentiaries appeared so sincerely disposed to forward the Negociations for Peace, that it was reckoned they might be brought to a happy Conclusion before the End of this Year. The Court has sent back this Express with new Instructions to the Imperial Plenipotentiaries.

Hampton Court, September 15.

This Day the Count de Cambis, Lieutenant General and Ambassador from the French King, had his first private Audience of his Royal Highness the Duke, and of their Royal Highnesses the Princesses Amelia, Caroline, Mary, and Louisa.
